8. Main Content

The draft Statutory Instrument amends the Traffic Signs Regulations and General Directions (TSRGD) 2002 so as to enable co-location of mandatory speed limit signs and informative camera warning signs on roads where speed enforcement is undertaken. The draft permits the use of a new diagram 880.1 sign for these purposes on unlit roads subject to the national speed limit and enables road markings indicating the speed limit to be placed in conjunction with the diagram 880 sign. It also permits the sign shown in diagram 675 to be used to indicate the point where a speed limit begins.

The UK will fulfil its obligation under Article 12 of Directive 98/34/EC when these regulations are officially published.

9. Brief Statement of Grounds

The UK has a policy of highly visible speed enforcement and these amendments are being made to further assist drivers to recognise and comply with the speed limit on roads where camera enforcement is taking place. The amendment regulations are required to enable the policy to be applied consistently across all speed limits.
