8. Main Content

The Regulations amend the Building (Scotland) Regulations 2004 which came into force on 1 May 2005 and prescribe functional standards for buildings. The amendments are in relation to the Schedules of the 2004 Regulations which are replaced in their entirety. Changes are proposed to the Scottish Building Standards Technical Handbooks, as follows:- Standards and guidance on Section 1 (Structure) – including an updated and expanded edition of the Small Buildings Guide; Standards and guidance on Section 4 (Safety) – mostly relating to accessibility of buildings; and Standards and guidance on Section 6 (Energy) – including a review of Section 3 (Environment) Standards on heating, ventilation, condensation and fuel storage; and how the EC Directive on the Energy Performance of Buildings impacts on the Regulations.

9. Brief Statement of Grounds

The changes are required as a result of practical experience of the new system of building standards introduced on 1 May 2005; changes to some of the technical requirements; and the implementation of certain requirements in terms of the EC Directive on the Energy Performance of Buildings.
