8. Main Content

The Amendment permits the treatment in approved composting or biogas plants of catering waste containing meat or products of animal origin, or catering waste from premises where meat or products of animal origin are handled. The Amendment sets out the minimum treatment standards and premises hygiene requirements.

The UK will fulfil its obligation under Article 12 of Directive 98/34/EC when these regulations are officially published

9. Brief Statement of Grounds

The EU Animal By-Products Regulation (EC 1774/2002, due to come into force in April 2003) will permit the treatment in approved composting and biogas plants of low-risk animal by-products and catering waste containing meat. For premises treating only catering waste, the Regulation permits Member States to set their own national treatment standards. This Amendment introduces national standards for the UK, based on a risk assessment commissioned by Department of Food and Rural Affairs. These standards can be introduced prior to the EU Regulation as the current EU rules do not control catering waste.
