8. Main Content

The purpose of the draft order is to amend a provision concerning the characteristics of electrical appliances used for cooling in high-rise buildings (IGHs).

9. Brief Statement of Grounds

Certain articles of the fire safety regulations for establishments open to the public (ERPs) are in the process of being amended, notably Article CH 35 thereof, to authorise the use of flammable refrigerants, hitherto prohibited. Article GH 37(2) of the fire safety regulations for high-rise buildings (IGHs) refers to the provisions of Article CH 35.

Pending a specific risk assessment study, in order to maintain an adequate level of safety in high-rise buildings, it is necessary to continue to restrict the use of flammable fluids in high-rise buildings and to avoid the creation of a loophole through the referral of Article GH 37 to Article CH 35.
