8. Main Content

The draft regulation defines the requirements of the fire behaviour of insulation products.

A guide for using combustible insulators in establishments open to the public describes the constructional solutions using heat shields that may be installed without justification, and introduces the possibility of using other shields or to implement other constructional solutions after justification.

The reference thermal action considered to assess the shield function is the temperature-time curve of the standardised thermal programme (NF EN 13501-2).

9. Brief Statement of Grounds

This draft represents an adaptation of the regulation to technical and legal developments in the area concerned. These amendments will be included in the fire safety regulation against fire in establishments open to the public.

We would reiterate that Article GN 14 of the regulation contains a mutual recognition clause for standards or specifications from other Member States of the European Union or the European Economic Area.
