8. Main Content

The Draft Royal Decree fully regulates the first marketing of all fishery products, whether from oceans or fresh waters originating from professional activity. It regulates the first sale of the fishery products and lays the foundations of the traceability system, with the special feature that fishery products from other countries shall be considered to have made their first sale at the time of entry into national territory, whose traceability and control is guaranteed by the catch certificate from Regulation (EC) No. 1005/2008, with an information level equivalent to the sales note.

In addition, all batches of fishery and aquaculture products must be traceable in all stages of the production, transformation and distribution chain, from catching or harvesting to the retail sale.

It seeks to guarantee the full traceability and control of the production and marketing in accordance with the community rules.

It also regulates the transport of fishery products that must be covered by the corresponding documentation, both in the case of first sale or not.

9. Brief Statement of Grounds

It regulates the first sale of fishery products, understood as those originating from ocean and fresh water extractive fishing, aquaculture and the production of algae as well as the harvesting of seaweed.
