8. Main Content

These Regulations (which apply to England, Scotland and Wales) supersede the Artificial Insemination of Pigs (England and Wales) Regulations 1964, the Artificial Insemination of Pigs (Scotland) Regulations 1964 and the Artificial Insemination of Pigs (EEC) Regulations 1992.

The Regulations regulate intra-Area trade and imports from third countries of porcine semen, ova and embryos and the approval of semen collection centres, isolation accommodation, collection teams and storage conditions. They also lay down national conditions in relation to domestic trade in porcine semen (regulation 5).

There is no need for the Regulations to provide for the recognition of equivalent standards and testing for other Member States as the national conditions set out in regulation 5 relate solely to internal domestic trade in porcine semen. Porcine semen for intra-Area trade has to comply with Directives 92/65 and 90/429.

9. Brief Statement of Grounds

These Regulations implement article 11 of Directive 92/65/EEC, Commission Decision 93/119/EEC and Directive 90/429 (the latter Directive was previously implemented by the Artificial Insemination of Pigs (EEC) Regulations 1992). The Regulations also supersede the current Regulations covering artificial insemination controls for pigs which date back to 1964 and the Regulations have been updated to take account of new working practices and to combine the Regulations for Scotland and England and Wales into one instrument covering Great Britain as a whole.
