8. Main Content

The proposals amend existing regulations concerning the Single Vehicle Approval (SVA) of cars and light goods vehicles. There are three main changes.

- i. The definition of, and technical requirements for, a Disabled Person's Vehicle (DPV) are altered;
- ii. Serving members of the Armed Forces outside the UK would qualify as "personal importers" even if their vehicle had not been imported into the UK; and
- iii. Various deregulatory or corrective changes on points of detail are made

9. Brief Statement of Grounds

The amendments concerning Disabled Persons' Vehicles ensure that appropriate standards are applied to vehicles constructed or adapted for use by disabled people. The changes to the status of Armed Forces personal importers addresses practical problems with short-notice postings of such personnel. Changes are made on several points of technical detail to address practical problems experienced with the test hitherto. Virtually all the changes simplify the current arrangements.
