8. Main Content

This Order implements Council Decision 95/348/EC which lays down construction and hygiene standards for knackers' yards which prepare meat from fallen stock petfood for local distribution. The Order applies to all knackers' yards operating in Great Britain, regardless of whether or not they produce petfood. Knackers' yards are to be subject to veterinary supervision and licensing by the Agriculture Departments.

9. Brief Statement of Grounds

The Order implements Council Decision 95/348/EC. However as there is a need to adopt a consistent approach, the Order also covers knackers' yards to which the Decision does not apply, ie those which act as collection centres for fallen stock and which only send material direct to rendering plants or for incineration. By controlling the circumstances in which all knackers' yards may handle and distribute animal by-products, the Order is designed to protect animal and human health by minimising the risk of the spread of animal pathogens.
