8. Main Content

This text aims to amend the current regulations regarding the treatment of foods by ionising radiation, in order to exclude from the scope of this text those foods which have been treated for the purpose of controls or inspections. In this respect, the text contains provisions which set a limit to the dose absorbed by the products and to the energy level of the equipment emitting the radiation, so that this equipment serves only to detect anomalies on the treated products.

9. Brief Statement of Grounds

New measures are put in place for non-destructive controls, particularly regarding safety controls. Where such controls use equipment which emits ionising radiation and are likely to be used on foods, they should be regulated.
