8. Main Content

Royal Decree 824/2005 of 8 July (Notification 2004/099/E) on fertilisers established basic regulations on fertiliser products. After an initial adaptation of the Royal Decree through Order APA/863/2008 of 25 March (Notification 2007/0689/E), certain annexes of the Decree were amended. At this point, the annexes need to be updated to include new types (Annex I) and new wastes for the production of amendments (Annex IV) along with the corresponding modifications concerning identification and labelling (Annex II), as well as setting new limits on pollutant content (Annex V), analysis methods for these new products (Annex VI) and their tolerance levels (Annex III).

9. Brief Statement of Grounds

Royal Decree 824/2005 of 8 July on fertiliser products established basic rules concerning fertiliser products and regulations for coordinating with the Autonomous Communities. This provision contains 7 annexes detailing the technical specifications and other requirements to be satisfied by such products in order to be deemed suitable for use in Spanish agriculture and gardening. Chapter VI describes the procedure laid down for bringing the annexes up to date with technical advancement and scientific knowledge, namely current agricultural practices and the incorporation of new types of amendments, in relation to which the notified Draft Order is drawn up.
