8. Main Content

The draft Decree adapts regulatory provisions to the developing state of the art and technology permitting safer fence electrifiers to be designed and placed on the market. It sets out a safety assessment procedure for new fence electrifiers falling within existing type approval categories, or benefiting from a type examination, with which to determine whether or not they may continue to be placed on the market as such. It limits the validity period of new type approval certificates, improves user information and introduces the obligation for accreditation by authorised bodies.

Keywords: safety of fence electrifiers, placement on the market, validity period of type examination certificates, safety-assessment procedure for new equipment, user information, accreditation by authorised bodies.

9. Brief Statement of Grounds
