8. Main Content

Provisional maximum residue limits are established, amending annex II of Royal Decree 280/1994, for the active substance pimetrozine, to include maximum residue limits for the active substance fenpropidin.

The maximum residue limits set for the following active substances are replaced: acrinatrin, clopiralide, diphenconazol, fention, hexaflumuron, tebufenocide and tetraconazol1.

9. Brief Statement of Grounds

The maximum residue limits for 1 active substance are provisional in nature, as a prerequisite for the adoption of decisions on the provisional authorisation of plant health products containing this active substance.

The maximum residue limit is established for 8 active substances, as a prerequisite for the adoption of decisions on the authorisation of plant health products or of new applications for these, and for the revision of already existing authorisations.
