8. Main Content

This Order prohibits, subject to certain exceptions, the importation of animal pathogens or carriers of such pathogens, without a licence issued by the Department of Agriculture for Northern Ireland and in accordance with any conditions of that licence. There are exceptions for veterinary and human medicines. The requirement for an import licence also does not apply to imports from a Member State or Great Britain

The UK will fulfil its obligation under Article 12 of Directive 98/34/EC (as amended) when these Regulations are officially published.

9. Brief Statement of Grounds

The aim of the Order is to control importation from third countries by means of licences in order that movement on entry to establishments where they will be held for scientific and other purposes may be monitored in order to prevent the escape of specified animal pathogens. This could cause serious disease and economic loss to the livestock industry.
