8. Main Content

The draft Order lays down criteria for determining when recovered fuel deriving from the treatment of used oils is no longer considered as waste in accordance with Law 22/2011 of 28 July 2011 and may be marketed as a fuel product.

9. Brief Statement of Grounds

To ensure the protection of human health and that of the environment in the use of fuel recovered from used oils, and in the absence of Community legislation, it is considered appropriate to draw up this ministerial order, applicable to the entire Spanish territory, which lays down criteria for determining when recovered fuel deriving from the treatment of used oils is no longer considered as waste in accordance with Law 22/2011 of 28 July 2011 and may be marketed as a fuel product.

In this respect, the order lays down requirements with regard to permissible waste, required treatments, limit values for pollutants found in the recovered fuel and the procedure for verifying compliance with these criteria.
