8. Main Content

The notified Draft Order amends Annex 1 (List of Types of Fertiliser Products), Annex 2 (General Provisions and Labelling), Annex 3 (Margins of Tolerance) and Annex 6 (Methods of Analysis) of Royal Decree no 824/2005 on Fertilising Products.

Royal Decree No 824/2005 of 8 July on fertilising products. Third additional provision. Mutual recognition.

9. Brief Statement of Grounds

The notified Order meets the need to bring Royal Decree No 824/2005 on fertilisers up to date with new farming methods. It brings its annexes into line with technological progress and scientific knowledge and clarifies certain issues that may have been misleading.

Furthermore, Spain has adopted a series of urgent measures as part of the Spanish strategy towards climate change and clean energy, including a plan to reduce the use of nitrogenous fertilisers in order to minimise N₂O emissions and to reduce the energy supply needed to produce this type of fertiliser.

This plan lays down clear measures, one of the most important of which is the promotion of new forms of fertiliser used in organic irrigation, a technique that allows for clearer targeting and more efficient use of fertilisers. Accordingly, fertilisers must comply with organic irrigation, which incorporates them into the soil with irrigation water.
