8. Main Content

The regulation "Standard 3.1-IC. Routing", defines the drawing up of highways studies on routing, in order to lay down suitable requirements in terms of functionality, safety and comfort compatible with economic and environmental considerations.

It basically lays down geometric conditions for the routing

highways.

9. Brief Statement of Grounds

The basic aim of the regulation is to update the regulations approved by the Orders of 23 April 1964 and 12 March 1976, bringing them into line with technical developments, the changes which have taken place in the volume and composition of traffic, new safety considerations and national and international technical standards.
