8. Main Content

The draft regulations are a technical performance specification, which cover the minimum performance requirements and measurement methods for type approval of analogue cordless telephone equipment for operation in frequency bands at 31 and 39 MHz in the UK. Recognition of equivalent standards has been provided for.

9. Brief Statement of Grounds

The frequency band at 31 and 39 MHz has recently been assigned in the UK for analogue cordless phones. The performance specification has been written to allow for type approval of equipment operating in the new frequency band.
