5. Title

Draft decree on the prevention and management of waste furniture

6. Products Concerned

7. Notification Under Another Act

8. Main Content

The decree establishes the principle of extended producer responsibility (EPR) for the prevention and management of waste furniture, which must henceforth be taken care of by those who place furniture on the market. This covers upstream prevention and the organisation of the collection, removal and treatment of waste furniture.

9. Brief Statement of Grounds

Commitment 251 of the Grenelle Environment Forum embodied, at the end of 2007, the collective desire to create a cycle based on the principle of extended producer responsibility (EPR) for the management of waste furniture. This commitment must make it possible to prevent the environmental and health risks associated with the handling and treatment of this waste when mixed with household waste.

The decision to create an EPR cycle is borne out of the government's desire to find a lasting and effective solution for the management and treatment of waste arising from both household furniture and workplace furniture.

The purpose of this cycle is to improve the treatment of waste furniture by developing re-use and recycling and to reduce the financial burden borne by local authorities for the management of said waste.
