8. Main Content

The Order prescribes a certain degree of fixity for the fibres.

In the standard NF G 28002:

- the textiles are subjected to alternate friction and creasing which is intended to cause the inadequately fixed fibres to be released.,
- the fibres released are counted in certain defined conditions.,
- a specification is established containing the maximum number of fibres released.

The Member States are requested to indicate to the French authorities the national standards or technical regulations which they consider to be equivalent.

9. Brief Statement of Grounds

The aim is to verify the adequate fixity of the fibres to prevent users being exposed to them, and thus to enable Point 6.2.m of the Annexe to Directive 91/659/EEC, on dangerous substances and preparations, to be complied with.
