8. Main Content

This draft decree lays down the essential safety requirements to be met by child-welfare articles, together with the procedures to be followed in order to be able to affix to a given product a mandatory mark of compliance with those requirements. It also requires the presence of an information note accompanying the product.

9. Brief Statement of Grounds

Child-welfare products are sensitive according to public opinion and a number of recent accidents have demonstrated the need to draw up regulations based on the principle of the new approach which define the safety requirements which those products must meet.
