5. Title

The Civil Enforcement of Road Traffic Contraventions (Approved Devices)(Wales) Order 2011

6. Products Concerned

Cameras and associated recording equipment used to record evidence of road traffic contraventions. An approved device must include a securely mounted camera connected by secure data links to a recording system. The camera must be capable of producing in one or more pictures a legible image or images of the vehicle in relation to which a road traffic contravention was committed, which shows its registration mark and enough of its location to show the circumstances of the contravention. The device must include a recording system of a specified standard. The device and its visual counter must be accurate within plus or minus 10 seconds over a 14-day period.

8. Main Content

The main content of the Order is to specify a description of a device that is an approved device for the purpose of enabling local authorities to take enforcement action against vehicles that commit road traffic contraventions. The Welsh Ministers will determine applications for the certification of such devices.

9. Brief Statement of Grounds

The Order describes the minimum standards of a device that may be used by local authorities to take enforcement action against road traffic contraventions. Evidence obtained from these devices will be used to issue Penalty Charge Notices to the owners of vehicles that have committed road traffic contraventions. Without the equipment, local authorities would have to rely upon the information given by a civil enforcement officer. This would be unsatisfactory and would lead to more challenges, more delays and higher costs.
