8. Main Content

The draft Regulations implement in Wales Directive 2001/113 relating to fruit jams, jellies and marmalades and sweetened chestnut puree for human consumption. As such they lay down compositional criteria that jams and similar products must meet in order to be described using these controlled sales names, and provide additional labelling requirements for jams and similar products.

In addition, the Regulations continue the current UK compositional and labelling requirements in respect of fruit curds and mincemeat (these products are not covered by the Directive). The rules in respect of fruit curds and mincemeat apply only to UK-produced foods; a “mutual recognition” clause is included to exempt products imported from other Member States.

Keywords: Food Labelling, Jam, Fruit Curd, Mincemeat

The UK will fulfil its obligation under Article 12 of Directive 98/34/EC when these regulations are officially published.

9. Brief Statement of Grounds

The provisions in respect of fruit curds and mincemeat are necessary to maintain the current level of consumer protection for these traditional UK products. The retention of the provisions is widely supported by stakeholders.

The remainder of the Regulations is necessary to implement the EC Directive, and thus to meet the UK's Community obligations.
