5. Title

Technical specifications for commercial amateur-radio sets.

6. Products Concerned

These specifications shall apply to those sets which are sold ready for use, intended exclusively for amateur-radio installations, i.e., those relating to the use of amateur-radio enthusiasts as defined in the radio-communication regulation (RR). These sets shall not include coding devices. Sets which are constructed privately by amateur-radio licence holders are not covered by these technical specifications either.

7. Notification Under Another Act

8. Main Content

The main objective of these technical specifications is to establish the technical requirements which commercial amateur-radio sets, defined in point 6 above, must comply with and set forth the testing methods which shall be used to verify compliance with these requirements.

9. Brief Statement of Grounds

The grounds justifying these technical specifications are to set out minimum requirements for these sets over all the national territory and to ensure that the radio spectrum is correctly used both over the frequency bands used for these sets and over those which may be affected by this use.
